

Students' Scientific Conference

Development Opportunities of the Country under Post-pandemic Conditions

Conference Working Languages – English, Georgian

Address: 6 Enukidze str. (EEU New Campus)

Agenda

29 January, 2022
10.30 – 11.00	Registration
11.00 – 11.25	Opening of the conference: Shalva Machavariani, Vice-rector for Science Affairs, East European University Welcome speech: Kakhaber Lazarashvili, Acting Rector, East European University
11.25 – 11.30	Introducing conference agenda to the conference participants and attendees: Tatia Gherkenashvili, Conference coordinator
11.30 – 11.50	Tatia Tsotskhalashvili, East European University Master's degree program student in Educational Research and Administration (Online) Distance learning for students with autism during the Covid-19 pandemic
11.50 – 12.10	Nino Meskhi, East European University Master's degree program student in Educational Research and Administration Administration (Online) Need for sex education in Georgian educational institutions and the public attitudes
12.10 – 12.30	Ana Jangisherashvili, East European University Master's degree program student in Educational Research and Administration Administration (Online) Teaching in a small contingent school: a challenge or an advantage?
12.30 – 12.50	Tamar Tkheldize, East European University Master's degree program student in Educational Research and Administration Main factors for strengthening the effectiveness of private tutoring in Georgia
12.50 – 13.10	Maka Maghaldadze, East European University Master's degree program student in Educational Research and Administration Administration (Online) Parental engagement in distance learning of primary school pupils - challenges and problems
13.10 – 13.30	Gauravi Shinde, East European University One cycle Medical Doctor program student of the faculty of Healthcare Sciences Development opportunities after post pandemic conditions
13.30 – 13.50	Rekha Baskar, East European University One cycle Medical Doctor program student of the faculty of Healthcare Sciences

	Impact of COVID on cognitive functions of international medical students
13.50 – 14.10	Martha Bekauridze, Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University Master’s Degree program student of the faculty of Social and Political Sciences Coronavirus as a new challenge of gender inequality and ways to address it
14.10 – 14.30	Sophio Avlakhshvili, East European University Master’s degree program student in Educational Research and Administration & Natia Chumburidze, East European University Master’s degree program student in Educational Research and Administration Education-Development Opportunity of the Country under Post-pandemic Conditions Administration (Online)
14.30 – 15.00	Conference wrap-up, Certificates awarding ceremony, Closing of the conference